Notes

- Penalties are assigned on a case-by-case basis. Aggravating and mitigating factors will be considered in the rendering of the final penalty. Factors that are considered include, but are not limited to:
 - Class year of student
 - Type of assignment
 - Amount of assignment affected by the infraction
 - Number of assignments affected by the infraction
 - Premeditation
 - Malicious intent
 - Cooperation during the investigation
 - Second or Further Violation
- All assigned Academic Sanctions are set to last for the duration of the student's matriculation at Stevens.
- Any inquiries should be directed to the Honor Board at honor@stevens.edu.
- Aid is any outside source used during the completion of a submitted work. It can be in the form of a book, website, tutor, classmate, or any other source in which a student may receive assistance in completing their assignment. For cooperative work, all students involved should be listed as references.
- Authorized aid is any aid explicitly allowed by the instructor of the course, either in the syllabus, on the exam, or otherwise in writing distributed to all students before the exam. Unauthorized aid is any aid that is not authorized. Students may not use unauthorized aid on any submitted work.
- An Honor System violation is when one:
 - uses or provides unauthorized aid, fails to cite aid at any place used, or presents others' ideas or experiences as one's own;
 - commits fraud by "falsely [representing] a matter of fact, whether by words or by conduct, by false or misleading allegations, or by concealment of what should have been disclosed"^[1];
 - willfully swears a false oath or affirmation to tell the truth, or subornation thereof; or
 - purposefully discloses confidential information related to an Honor Board investigation to anybody other than members of the Honor Board, the Stevens administration, or the professor of a course the case involves, unless the case has been closed and explicit permission from all accused students involved has been granted, or in the case of an accused student seeking witnesses or representation for an Honor Board hearing.

7. An Academic Sanction is a penalty levied by the Stevens Honor Board, which will be applied to a student's transcript. It is reserved for more serious violations of the Honor System and will be applied when deemed appropriate by the Honor Board. The Academic Sanction will include the following statement: "An Honor System violation was committed in Course XXX, Semester YY(S/F)". A removable Academic Sanction is an Academic Sanction that can be removed by fulfilling an educational assignment as specified by the Stevens Honor Board. To assign an Academic Sanction for a violation which occurs during a student's first or second academic year, or to assign a removable Academic Sanction for a violation which occurs during or after a student's third academic year, the Board may follow procedures for extraordinary penalties. Manuals outlining the requirements, timelines, and grounds for failure of these educational assignments shall be posted on the Stevens Honor Board website and shall be considered an extension of these Bylaws.
